FIVE & CHANGE

1. ANTHONY GALLO ACOUSTICS REFERENCE 5LS

This 78" tower is actually relatively small, as its only 7" wide and 11" deep. Its premium sound quality blends well with your HD home theater set-up.

2. NOKIA 5300 XPRESSMUSIC PHONE

Nokia drops their first music phone and delivers with sweet slider design and cool user-friendly controls. Beyond physicality, it's loaded with features: 1.3-megapixel camera, Bluetooth and an expandable memory slot.

3. AMP'D MOBILE MOTO Q

Amp'd finally gets a grown up phone. Besides exclusive menus and features for the Amp'd network, the Q still maintains the PDA Smartphone click controls and delivers stellar internet interface.

4. SONY MEX-BT5000

Sony's all-in-one car stereo ups the ante with built-in Bluetooth capabilities for your phone and wireless audio support. The stereo supports MP3 and WMA playback while being pre-wired for satellite radio, built-in auxiliary input, three pre-outs, and controls for connecting a CD changer.

5. MOTOROLA BLUETOOTH CAR KIT HF820

This miniature Bluetooth device attaches easily to your dash, utilizes a radio frequency from your car stereo and connects automatically to any Bluetooth enabled phone. When connected the kit also alerts you of incoming calls, voicemail, text and low battery.

change. NBA AIRPLAY

Fantasy gaming gets the mobile treatment. Gamers pick players, set their rosters and check their stats on their cell phone. All while doing battle against the homies or other fans on the network.
