BLOW YOUR BONUS!

Motorola MOTOKRZR K1, $150

Thought the RAZR was the ultimate in sexy cells? Motorola's newest struts its stuff in a slimmer shell dolled up with candy paint jobs. AWSM, right? motorola.com

Leica D-Lux 3, $599

It's got 10 megapixels, a 16:9 aspect ratio for wide-screen shots, image stabilization to prevent blurring, and crystal-clear images good enough for a Maxim cover. leica-camera.us

Pinnacle Dazzle Video Creator Platinum, $90

Connect a VCR to a PC with the Dazzle to turn tapes into digital video. Format it for the PSP or iPod, too, if you need Labyrinth to go. pinnacle.com

Anthony Gallo A'Diva Ti Speakers, $300

These orbs utilize titanium drivers, creating a wide tonal range that renders a subwoofer almost useless. Barry White would be proud. anthonygallo.co.uk

Canon HV10 HD Camcorder, $1,299

Make memories in 1080i high-def with Canon's newest cam. Nothing beats seeing how a pal's brow creases as he takes a football to the gonads. usa.canon.com

Apple iPod Shuffle, $79

The new Shuffle rocks a built-in clip and 1 GB—enough for about 240 songs. And that aluminum body is so tiny it will give Nanos eating disorders. apple.com
